

A message from our Executive Director

2025 was a benchmark year for PSS. From Sooke to Sidney we engaged with communities in their watersheds building healthier relationships with our streams and shorelines. This year we continued to leverage data collected by our expert staff, partners, and network of dedicated community scientists towards improved ecosystem management and conservation. Some highlights include a pollinator monitoring report emphasizing the incredible gains in native bee diversity thanks to our work at Lime Bay Park, our first year of acoustic tagged coastal cutthroat trout monitoring data in Victoria Harbour, and our “Bracing for Rain” stormwater management policy analysis and rating guide study. Collaboration continues to be key as we achieve so much more working together and building on each other’s strengths.

Thank you and HÍ SW KE to all of our volunteers, supporters, and partners who make this amazing work possible!

Kyle Armstrong,
Executive Director

